

Nature Champions Back Biodiversity

Minke Whale

Scotland's most abundant coastal whale, minke whales feed in Scottish waters from spring to autumn, and some overwinter here too.

Long lived whales capture carbon in their huge bodies & play a vital role in ocean nutrient cycling.

Monitoring whale and other marine species, through citizen science: <https://hwdt.org/hebridean-marine-mammal-atlas>

